That Worked!

*I like to play with
my little sister.*

*Our favorite
game is "Animals
at Home".*

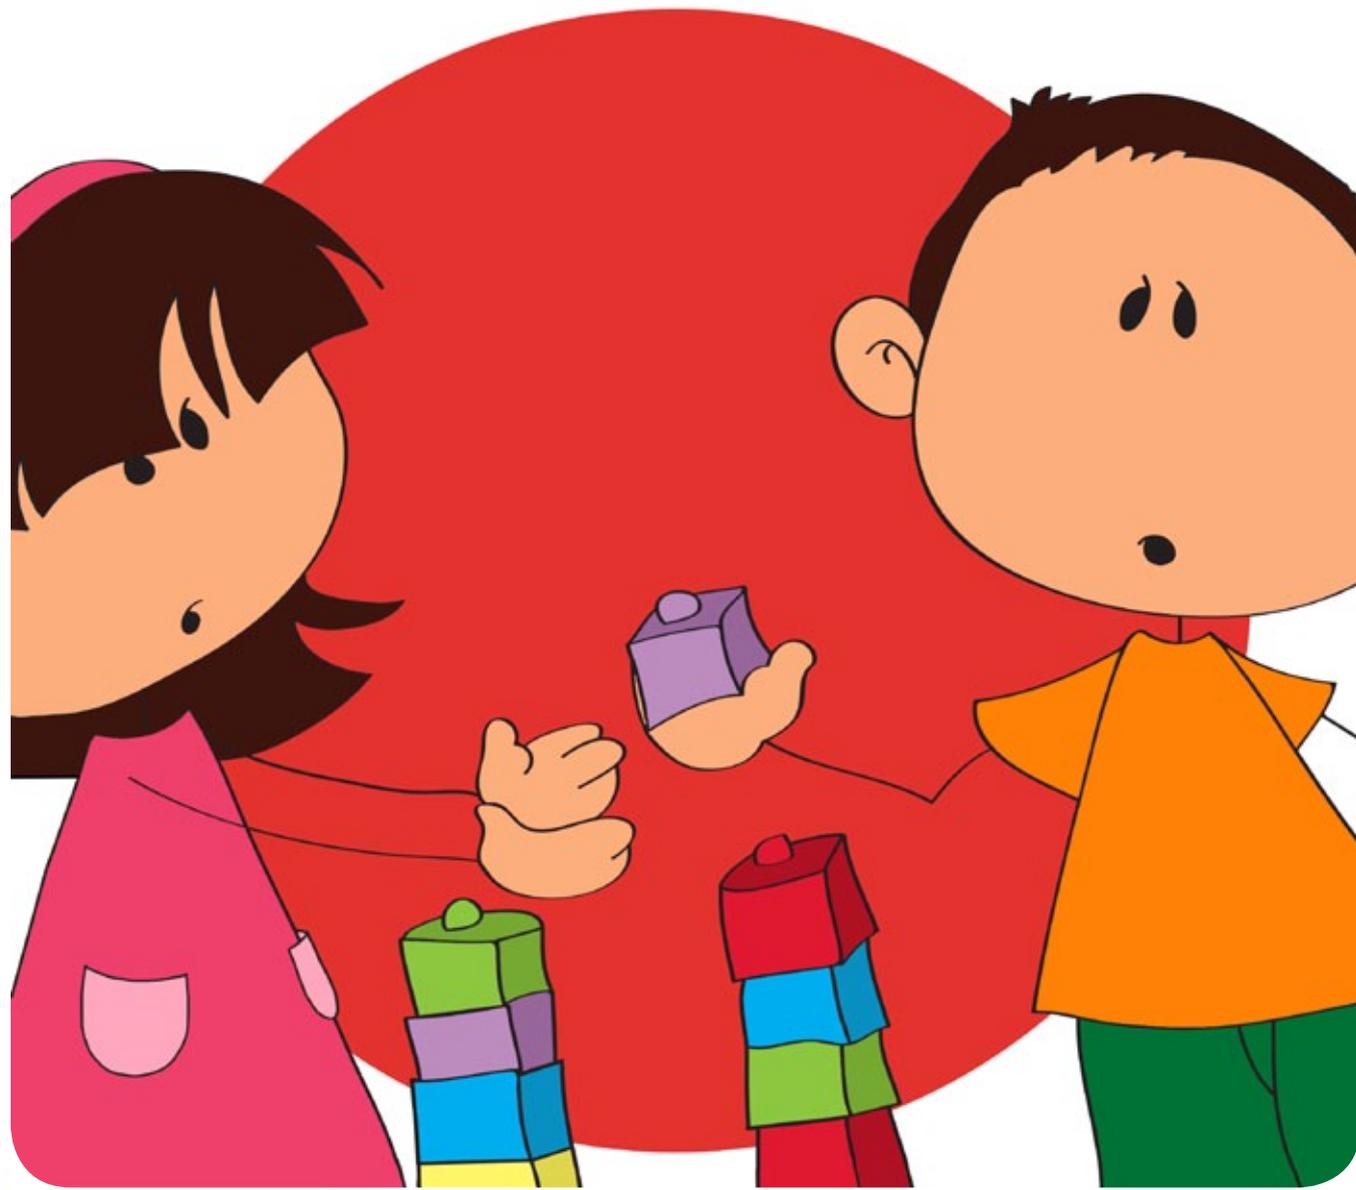

1

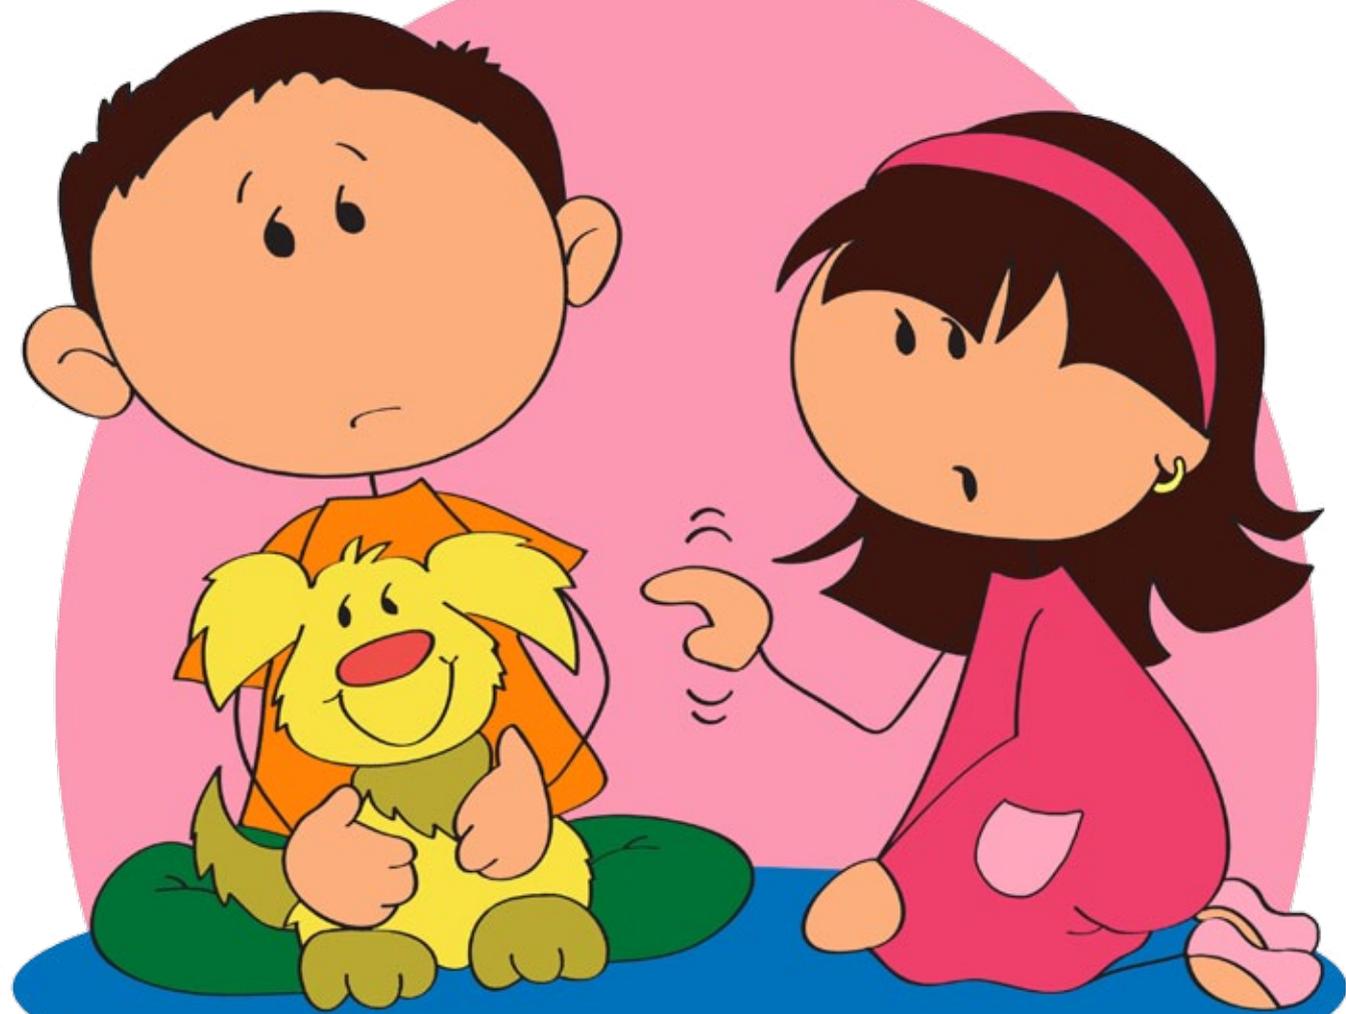

We build Lego houses for our toy animals.

*But my little
sister always
wants what
I have.*

*When I reach
to get a piece
of Lego, she
wants it too.*

*If I want to
play with the
toy puppy, she
wants it as well.*

5

That really bugs me. What can we do to work this out?

6

*I know, I'll tell
mom that my
sister is bugging
me. She'll take care of it.*

7

*“Hmm” says mom.
“It’s not fair to give
me your problem. I’ve
got lots of problems
to take care of
already. I think that you can come up with
something to try.”*

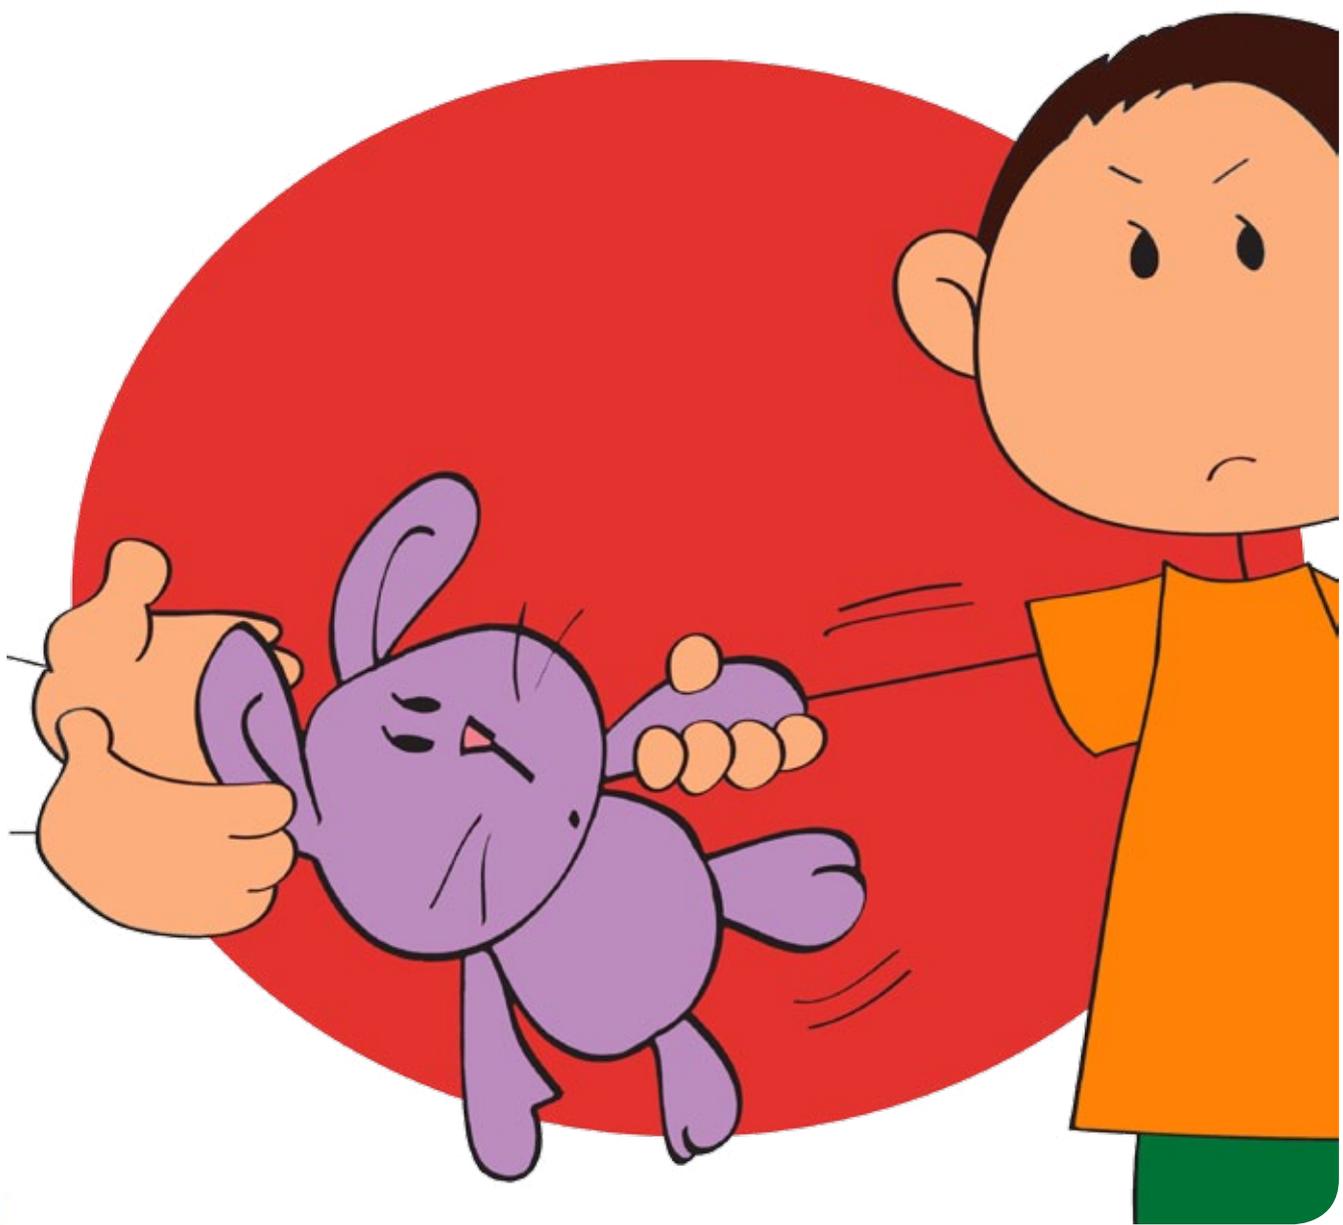

*But I don't know
how to work out
this problem.
I can't tell Sister
what to do; she
never listens to me.*

*Hmm. I could try
pinching her.*

*Oh no, I've tried
that one before,
and it didn't work
out so well for me.*

10

*I could grab the
toy I want.*

*Nah. I think I've tried that too, and I
didn't like how that
turned out either.*

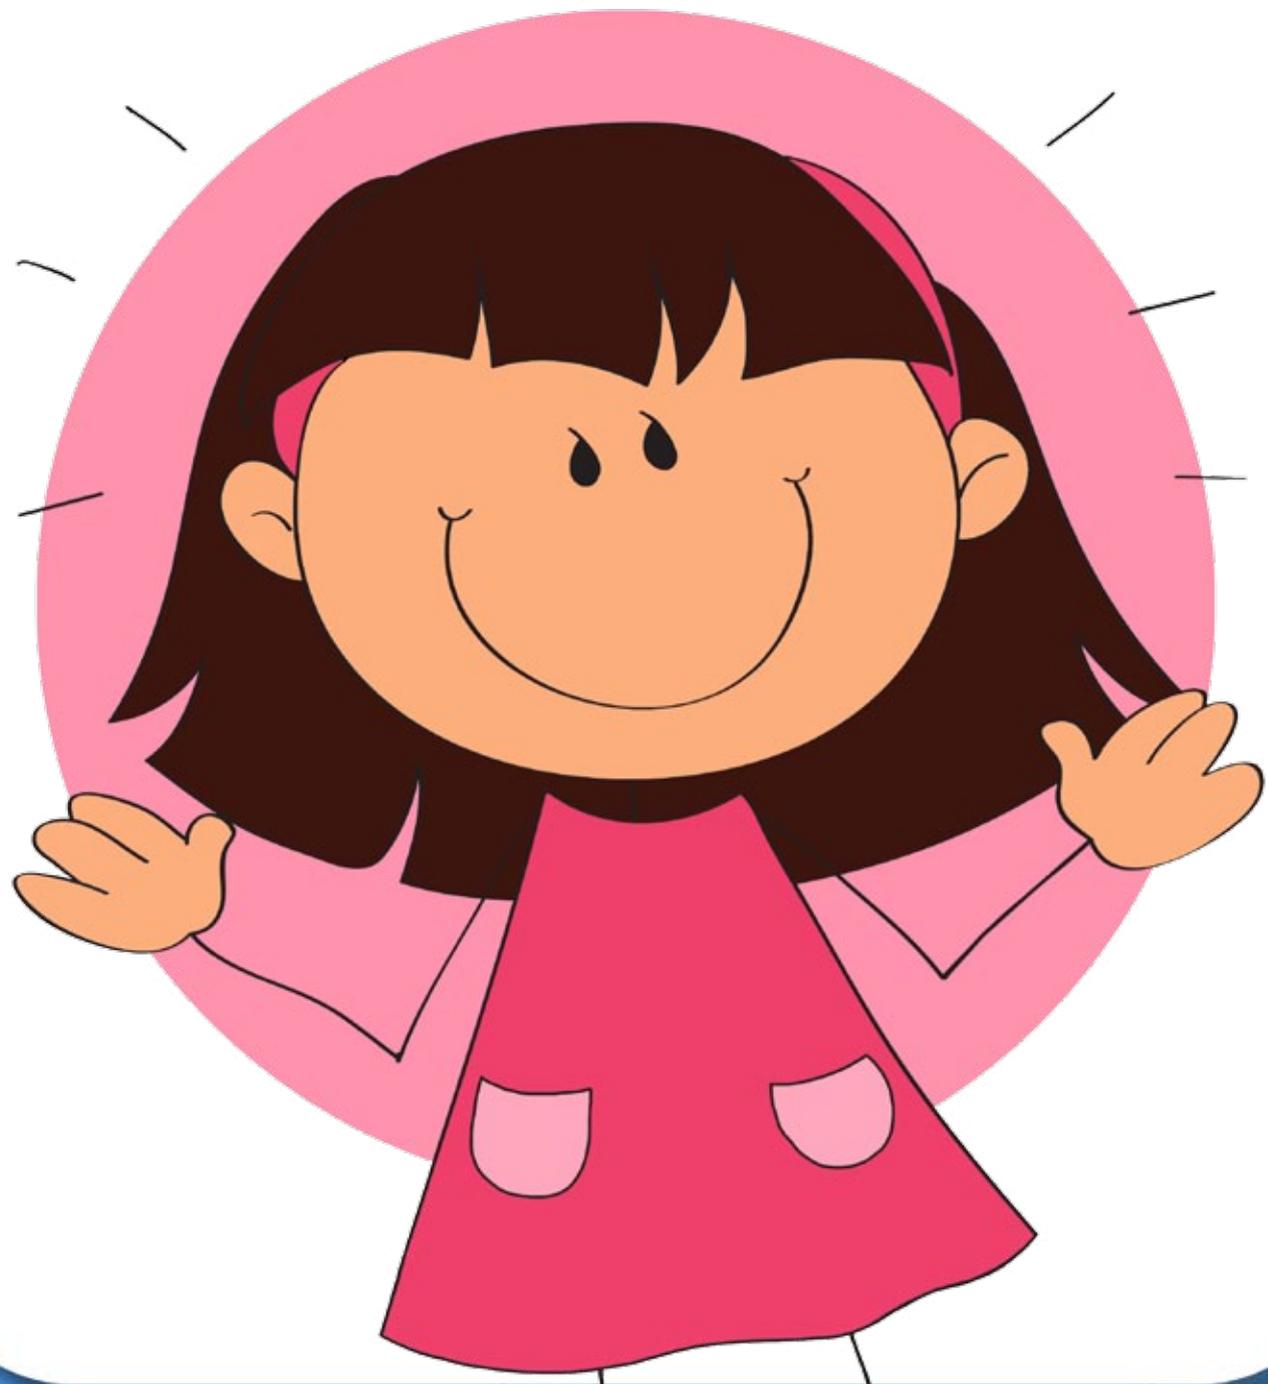

*Maybe I could
find her something
that she likes, and
exchange it with
her.*

“Sister, would you like to play with this monkey? He can climb this tree, look!”

*“Then I could go with the
puppy to visit
your zoo”.*

“Ok.” She says.

*“That sounds
like fun!”*

*Hey. That
worked well.
I should try that
more often.*
