Baa Baa Black Sheep

Baa baa black sheep
Have you any wool?
Yes sir, yes sir,
Three bags full.
One for the master
One for the dame
And one for the little boy who lives down the lane.

Baa baa white
sheep
Have you any wool?
Yes sir, yes sir
Three needles full.
One to mend a jumper
One to mend a frock
And one for the little girl
With holes in her socks.

Baa baa grey sheep
Have you any wool?
Yes sir, yes sir
Three bags full.
One for the kitten

One for the cats
And one for the guinea pigs
To knit some woolly hats.

More about 'Baa Baa Black Sheep'

Baa Baa Black Sheep is an old nurse rhyme in English that has been sung throughout the time. The little story of a sheep which brought its wool: one bag to its master, one to his dame, one to the little boy down the lane. The fact that such a rhyme is not only joyful with its rhythmic and melodic features but also teaches children such values as the sharing and kind nature. It is claimed to have referred to the medieval wool trade in England way back in the history, but it is nowadays sung to children as a play. Rhyme strengthens counting skills at an earlier stage since a child can create a visual image of three bags full and memory due to repetition. Several teachers and parents put more of it into it and make it more interactive and fun by adding more hand motions or props to the rhyme. It is a naive and warm hearted message that causes Baa Baa Black Sheep to be a favourite to the kids in homes, nurseries, and preschools all over the world.
